What are the benefits of participating in BSI development activities?

Authors for Build Security In have the opportunity to participate in a community effort to develop material that will be widely viewed by software developers and managers who are interested in developing secure products. Author names and affiliations will appear on the site, giving visibility to the authors and their organizations in the community.

Reviewers have the opportunity to review material for Build Security In, supporting the goal of community consensus. Reviewers, with their permission, will be acknowledged on the site and in the community.